Located all around Canada, Mexico and the United States are our 216 Clark dealerships that offer full service.

Providing new equipment inventory and pre-owned units is our "Best in Class" dealer network. Clark's rental fleets total over 8,000 short term rental units and over 8,000 long term rental units. Our parts departments are well-stocked always. Over 1,500 service technicians who are factory trained are connected 24 hours every day to the Clark parts technical documentation parts and service system. With over 300 sales employees, Clark is well positioned to continue its leadership position in the forklift industry.

Offering regular training courses is the Clark Training center in Lexington, KY. Other dealer locations also offer training. Clark places a great deal of emphasis on ensuring that Clark dealers are in compliance and up-to-date with the newest technology and industry safety regulations. We have a close working relationship with Industrial Truck Association (ITA), OSHA and Material Handling Equipment Distributors Association (MHEDA).

By being involved in different charities and local causes, our dealers actively give back to their local communities. Our main objective is to ensure that our corporate initiatives, our dealers and our products contribute positively to the lives of those around us.

Clark manufactures some of the most dependable, rugged, environmentally-friendly forklifts on the market. Our GEX 20-30 electric series lessens gas consumption while contributing to cleaner air, whether used inside or outside. This line is gaining ground as the most excellent alternative for those who want to lessen their effect on nature. The Gen2 internal combustion lift truck is another popular choice.
